APPEARANCES BEFORE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES

Sixteen of the 23 appearances were made by the Director and one by the Deputy Director. Three were briefings given by the Assistant Director of Scientific Intelligence, and three were presentations by the Assistant Director or Deputy Assistant Director of Central Reference in connection with the translation and dissemination of information programs.

Four appearances were made before the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, including an appearance before the Military Applications Subcommittee. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was briefed on three separate occasions. The CIA Subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee, the CIA Subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee, the CIA Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, and the Disarmament Subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee were each briefed twice. There were, therefore, Agency appearances before 16 different congressional committees or subcommittees, and of the total membership of 168 congressmen, 109 different members of the Congress actually attended, 41 senators and 68 representatives.

The appearances before the Joint Atomic Energy Committee included briefings on the world situation, with particular emphasis on Soviet bomber and guided missile programs and a presentation in support of the amendments to the Atomic Energy Act to broaden the exchange of Restricted Data with other countries. One appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was made jointly with Mr. Robert Murphy, Deputy Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs, in response to inquiries about the reception of the Vice President in South America. The Disarmament Subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was provided information relating to the detection of nuclear explosions and activities. The Armed Services Subcommittees were briefed on the world situation with responses made to areas of special interest.

STATISTICS ON INDIVIDUAL CONGRESSIONAL CONTACTS

On routine matters telephone inquiries were received from congressional offices concerning 208 different personnel cases. These were mainly to arrange for employment interviews, obtain application forms, or to inquire into the status of applications. During the second session there were 96 telephone requests from the Congress for information; on 88 occasions documents on the subjects of inquiry were personally delivered to the requestors. There were 24 personal visits by the Office of the Legislative Counsel to members of the Congress and 64 meetings with staff members. Approximately 85 requests were made by the Agency to congressional sources and the Bureau of the Budget for information and documents. In addition to the Legislative Counsel, other senior Agency officials had official contacts with 36 members of the Congress on 30 different occasions.

Authorities of the Bureau of the Budget as Set Forth in Title 31, United States
Code Annotated

- A. "...The Bureau, under such rules and regulations as the President may prescribe, shall prepare the budget...and to this end shall have authority to assemble, correlate, revise, reduce, or increase the request for appropriations of the several departments or establishments". (31 USC 16)
- B. "The Bureau, when directed by the President, shall make a detailed study of the departments and establishments for the purpose of enabling the President to determine what changes (with a view of securing greater economy and efficiency in the conduct of the public service) should be made in (1) the existing organization, activities, and methods of business of such departments or establishments, (2) the appropriations therefor, (3) the assignment of particular activities to particular services, or (4) the regrouping of services. The results of such study shall be embodied in a report or reports to the President, who may transmit to Congress such report or reports or any part thereof with his recommendations on the matters covered thereby." (31 USC 18)
- C. "Under such regulations as the President may prescribe (1) every department and establishment shall furnish to the bureau such information as the bureau may from time to time require and (2) ...any employee of the bureau when duly authorized, shall, for the purpose of securing such information, have access to, and the right to examine, any books, documents, papers, or records of any such department or establishment." (31 USC 21)
